N. Koreans make no progress; Pyongyang raided ADMIRALTY STATEMENT

American ground forces today reached the war front, dug advanced positions and got a baptism of fire from strafing North Korean planes. But, by nightfall, they had not seen the ground enemy. General MacArthur's advanced headquarters in South Korea said the invaders had made no serious progress during the day, and only sporadic fighting had taken place. A spokesman indicated the break through the Han river line at Yongdungpo by two tank columns might have been less serious than first anticipated. The Americans were rushed forward from their staging base to head off these columns.

FOURTH OF JULY

Sir,--Exactly 174 years ago, lodoy, July 4, 1778, a new States was born by the famous Declaration of Independence of which we today read with cheering hearts such wording as: "We hold these truths to b self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalicnable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their 'just powers from the consent of the Governed.'

The principle embedded in this declaration was first thought of as a political belief, but today. looking at the sound political structure of the United States this principle has turned out to be the best ever formed and the form of government of the United States the most workable one

The late President Franklin Delano Roesevelt once said: "We are all immigrants," and by this he meant to emphasise a common bond between the different peoples who went to America to settle themselves ever since the discovery of that Continent by Christopher Colombus on October 12, 1492. The United States played an important part in World War II., which she participated in also in defence of the principlaof her Independence Declaration, and, immediately after the attack on Fearl Harbour, she fought gallantly with the resolute de-worth the space used for ital publication, considering how little he said that was not common knowledge and the subject general conversation. But it is, in 'a' sense, encouraging that he is able, for once, to take an onthodox iview.

One wonders if his unwonted concurrence with popular opinion is due to a deterioration of that urge to fly in the face of convention, which has been for so long an essential part of his personality; or to the fact that Philoso phy cannot conceive of a more dreary possibility.

OUTBURST OF WORDS AT PIRACY

A hot outburst of words was uttered by Mr. B. A. Bernacchi, defence counsel, at a piracy trial yesterday as the prosecutor was about to put the Crown's case before the jury.

Mr. Bernacchi, accusing Mr. A. Lonsdale, Crown Counsel, of refusing to listen to a formal notice by him on certain points in the prosecution's opening, retorted that he has always found Mr. Lonsdale most difficult to Defence counsel told the i Court that If the prosecutor persisted in refusing to accept his notice; he could only say that, in all his practice in the the statute of 1827. Courts of Hong Kong, he has never seen such improper behaviour.

Mr. Justice T.J. Gould, Senier Puisne Judge, then interposed. saying that this tirade was completely unjustifiable. If counsel wanted to make any complaint, he udded. he should make through the proper channel.

Mr. Longdate then rose and said it was eustomary for the notice in question to be given before coming hito Court, and not when the opposing counsel was about rise to his feet and begin his address to the jury.

The trial then proceeded. In the morning, when the jury of four men and three women had been empanelled, they were thereupon temporarily dismissed and told to return at 2.30 p.m. in view of preliminary legal arguments that were to be heard.

The trial involves two accused. Mak Hol, 25-year-old fish dealer. and Chan Tat, aged 26, unemployed. Both are being tried on a "piracy with violence contrary to the Pirney Act of 1837, section

In the jury's absence, Mr. Bernacchi made an application for the present indictment against his clients to be quashed on the following grounds:

1) That the charge is not brought under the Admiralty Offences Colonial Act, 1849; 2) that section 20 of the Civil Procedure Ordinance No. 9, 1899, has not been complied with: and that the statement of offence is totally inadequate, neither following the wording of the statute, nor alleging the offences to be contrary to the statute.

Mr. Bernacchi in the course of his prauments, submitted that no enactment of the legislature of Hong Kong is valid outside the territorial limits of the Colony. He contended that the Court had no jurisdiction over this kind of offence under the present charge, and quoted authorities in support.

Hearing was then adjourned until 2.30 p.m. When Court had re-assembled in the Jury's prosence, Mr. Justice Gould ruled that the matter was governed by the Indictment Ordinance. He held that the present indictment was not deficient, except for the wording on the state. ment of offence.

Mr. Lonsdale then made formal application to amend the wording accordingly, which was granted. The accused were asked to plead on this amended statement of offence. Upon their bringing in a plea of act guilty. the trial was ordered to start. Mr. Bernachl however suddealy rose and asked for an ad-Journment. ### American beachcomber colony Manila, July 2. A small American "beachcomber (colony" in the Philippines is a headache for social workers here.

The so-called "beachcombers" are Americans who have remained in this country because they once thought it could provide them a good living or because of romantic attachments.

Included are several hundred ex-servicemen who stayed here after World War II, some thinking they could get rich quick. Instead, the tightening economy out means of making a decent living and without even the $283 Admiral S. Barnard, the Royal it takes to buy a third class steamship ticket to the United

'A few, organisations, like the American Association of Philippines, are giving what help they can to destitute Americans. They provide food, clothing and medical aid, but no money. The Association's limited funds derived entirely from private donations.

Several hundred

There are no accurate figures on the number of Americans who are living a hand to mouth existence here. One source said there. are known to be several hundred and that there might be more than 1,000.

Under the GI bill of rights, some jobless Americans in the Philippines receive $1007 to $125 a month. It keeps them going but does not provide a comfortable living.

The American Association the Philippines has 300 applications from Americans for help in finding jobs. Since import and exchange controls were imposed employment has been hard to find.

No plan has been worked out yet for repairlating Americans in the Philippines. And, according to social workers; not all of them want to be repatriated.-United Press.

The activities under Mrs. Myrdal are more varied. Theyinclude human rights, freedom of information, status of women, population and penal narcotic drugs, child and family, welfare, housing and town and country planning, and: the provision of social services to governments.

Myrdal's big headache is the stalemate in trade between Eastern and Western Europe. He has worked hard to break it, but the Commission's last report frankly concedes that matters are likely to get worse instead of better. He recently made a special trip to Moscow to discuss the situation with Soviet officials.

The Security In fact, you bowl for countless Council called for the restoration of peace and a ceasefire in Korea. The Government of the United States responded with a swiftness in action that was in marked contrast with all previous experience of the United Nations and its predecessor. The lead it has taken in responding to the call has been supported with singular unanimity by practically the whole of the free world.

The American people have put their hands to the plough in a great enterprise in support of one of the basic principles to which all nations have subscribed. It is necessary to hold fast to the issue of principle on which all action has been based. This was clearly expressed by the Secretary of State, Mr. Dean one shrugged shoulders and had Acheson, in his address to The President, had enunciated the policy of the Government to uphold the sanctity of the Charter and the rule of law hell with Peru. They always among the nations. The size added that in Chile, before the Charter and the rule of law and speed of the attack, he said, made it evident that it was a premeditated action. He recalled that the United States recognised the new Government in South Korea in January last year, and that many other members of the United Nations had done the same. After reviewing the background of recent history against which the aggression had taken place, he went on "The great single fact which stands out from this summary of history is that a peaceful people ruled by a sovereign independent government of their own choosing, brought into being by the United Nations and recognised by the great majority of the free nations of the world, was attacked in a cynical and brutal act of aggression. We are confronted with a direct challenge to the United Nations. One expected trouble on first arrival, for the sequence of trouble in South America was nothing new. At various times there had been that affair of the Chace War between Bolivia and Paraguay and that curlous occasion when the Chilean Air Force had bombed units of its own Fleet.

RESTORE FUND CUTS

Washington, July 2. Fearful that the Korean crisis may explode into World War III, Congress may forget economy and give the Defence Department all the funds it requested this year.

Informed sources said today that the Senate Appropriations sub-Committee has already recommended restoring House cuts in the 1950-51 military budget and that the full Committee may support it perhaps this week.

No consideration of putting merchant fleet on war footing

Washington, July 2, A spokesman for both the U.S. Navy and Maritime Commission said today there is no consideration of plans to place the United States merchant shipping on a wartime footing.

A Navy official said that while such plans undoubtedly are prepared in reserve they have not been taken out of the reserve status for consideration so far in the Korean crisis and probably would; not be unless the situation deteriorates to a point that a general world war appeared imminent.

spokesman said he know of no ships varies and the time scheplans for mobilisation of shipping dule for turning them to serviceon the West Coast or any other able condition is a military specific area but indicated that if secret. New York, July 2.

Coniston. England. July 2, Donald Campbell skimmed over the glassy surface of Lake Coniston today, at 140 miles per hour in his 11-yearold speedboat Bluebird. It was a trial run and the tor speed was not maintained over the full course. But Campbell said he was pleased at the performance of the steek old craft in which his father, the late Sir Malcoln Campbell, set up a world record of 141.74 miles an hour in 1939 Donald said he will try to improve that record in about six weeks. But first he will install a new propellor shaft and alter the design of a gear box. Campbell was particularly pleased today by the fact that even at the top speed reached the Bluebird did not lift its nose appreciably. Campbell had feared that at speeds above 155 miles an hour the Bluebird would for out of the water but today's trial run made, him confident that his
